Elsie is "Top of the Chops!"

We were all so proud when Elsie made the front page of the Sleaford Standard for her kind-hearted gesture for the charity "The little Princess Trust." This national charity creates wigs for children who have lost their hair due to treatment for cancer and other illnesses. Elsie was inspired when watching a TV programme with her mum about a little girl who had lost her hair. When her mum explained that children could wear wigs, Elsie said she could have her hair. Elsie has raised £435 so far and will have the big chop in half term. Find out more at <https://www.littleprincesses.org.uk/>

The Latest Youtuber - #Emily Cook

Inspired by her class topic "What would you need on a mission to Mars," Emily has produced an informative video to show how and why the surface of Mars changes. Emily uses everyday materials to demonstrate the patterns seen on the surface of Mars due to the change in wind direction halfway through the Martian year. Emily is certainly a Blue Peter presenter for the future!

Scarecrow Competition

Mr and Mrs Almond picked up the entries for the scarecrow competition on Thursday morning. as part of the National Garden Scheme (NGS).

You can see the entries in their full glory at Kings Hill Lodge on Saturday 22nd May. Mr and Mrs Almond are opening their garden as part of the National Gardening Scheme. Entrance is £4 for adults with free entry for children. Homemade teas and refreshments will be available.

For more details visit <https://ngs.org.uk/find-a-garden/> Neverland were very proud of their finished entry. In fact, it did remind me of someone?

NSPCC Speak Out. Stay Safe Assembly

I am pleased to tell you that this term we will be participating in the NSPCC's Speak out. Stay safe. online programme. This consists of an online assembly and supporting classroom-based activities. Speak out. Stay safe. is a safeguarding programme available to all primary schools in the UK. It aims to help children understand abuse in all its forms and to recognise the signs of abuse in a child friendly, interactive way. Children are taught to speak out if they are worried, either to a trusted adult or Childline.

The NSPCC have developed an online version of their Speak out. Stay safe. programme to help overcome some of the challenges that the Coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic has presented in relation to having external speakers in school. Mrs Hunt held an introductory assembly by TEAMS to explain the rights of all children. The children then had an online assembly, where the Speak out. Stay safe. messages continue to be delivered in a fun and interactive way with the help of their mascot Buddy as well as special guest appearances from Ant and Dec.

We have studied the content of the materials and are extremely confident that they are appropriate for primary-school-aged children. By the end of the programme, we're convinced Caythorpe pupils will feel empowered - knowing how they can speak out and stay safe. If you would like to know more about the Speak out. Stay safe. programme you can find information on the NSPCC website www.nspcc.org.uk/speakout

National Mental Health Awareness Week

As you know, this week we have been raising awareness regarding mental health. Many took the opportunity as it was walk to school week, to park a little further away and enjoy the walk to school.

The children have been exploring ways we can keep mentally healthy.

In addition to the daily activities of the worry jar and the mindful meditation, Hogwarts introduced a positivity jar where, if children need a positive message, children can pick a quote to share. The children also love mindful colouring at the end of the day to wind down.

Narnia used a chapter from Varjak to act out a particular scene where some of the characters fell out. They discussed afterwards some different ways that each character could have dealt with that particular situation.

Neverland love Jump Start Johnny to wake and shake in the mornings. A change of activity can be a huge release if you have been focused on a task for a long time or you are struggling to think of what to do next! They have also enjoyed mindful colouring and talking about their feelings.

Even Mrs Hunt enjoyed a game of hedgehogs when she visited Neverland and heard mindful music coming from the classroom as she walked down the corridor. A powerful activity is "I wish Mrs Cook knew..." Children write a message that they want Mrs Cook to know about. These can be confidential or just for a bit of fun.

Enchanted Forest tried rainbow breathing as a strategy to find inner calm. They have also enjoyed singing rhymes and songs (outside!)
